Winthrop, Charles Francis Adams and other distinguished tizens, members of the Massachusetts Historical Society, praying a suitable appropriation for the erection of a nument to commemorate the victory of Yorktown. Referred to the committee on library.
Senator Hoar presented petitions of citizens asking for the appointment of a labor commission. Referred to the committee on education and labor. The resolution introduced by Senator Davis, of West Virginia, reported yesterday from the committee on agriculture, instructing the agricultural com-mittees of both Houses to consider the subject of agriculture, and report what

S. consul at Glasgow, Scotland, in his dispatch to the Department of State, reports an increase in the annual exports to the United States of over $1,000,000. This is largely due to the large exportation of pig iron from that port. In the Senate on motion of Mr. Morrill, it was ordered that the committee on public buildings and grounds inquire whether any changes have been made or proposed in the plan originally provided for the War, Navy and State department building, and if any changes have been made or proposed, by what authority they were made, and the reason therefor.

The Senate proceeded to consider the pension appropriation bill, and it was The Senate took up Voorhees' resolution for the appointment of a committee to investigate the causes of the ration from the South Senator Windom submitted an amendment to Mr. Voorhees' resolution for the appointment of a committee to investigate the colored exodus. The amendment instructs the committee to inquire also whether the colored people in the south have been cruelly treated for political or other reasons; also, if they have been deprived of any of their rights as citizens; whether it will not be wise policy to distribute them over the country, so as to remove any biect that may exist for interferring with or abridging their rights, whether it would not be wise to set apart cer-tain territory for them, and what terriory, and report what action Congress should take in the matter to secure the rights of colored citizens. The taking up by the Senate of Senator Voorhees' resolution for the appointment of a committee to investigate the negro exodus from the South, led to a long and quite animated debate, which occupied most of the afternoon session. Senator Voorhees said it was desirable to know whether the exodus was, or was not, caused as alleged, by unjust political treatment of the negroes in the South. Indiana did not wish to be colonized by negroes any more than California wished to be colnized by the Chinese. He considered Mr. Windom's amendment as providing for enquiry with regard to setting apart separate territories for negro col-onists as premature. Better let the committee act on its own discretion

After a brief defence by Senator Windom of his amendment, Senator Hill (Ga.) said he was tired of these Congressional investigations. The negro exodus would settle itself, and the talk about the causes of the movement was all gammon. The negroes were contented in the direct proportion to the time that the Southern States had been freed from carpet-bag rule. The number of colored school children in Georgia would probably reach ninety thousand this year, and the tax books showed that the colored people of that State own more than five million dollars in real property. The discontent among the negroes was, in the main, with the worthless classes, who were worked upon by designing men. He had doubted the capacity of the blacks to become good citizens, but was glad to admit that they had done better than was expected. They had found out that their old masters, instead of being their worst enemies, as they had been told, were their best friends. He would not, however, further oppose the resolution than to deprecate it on general principles.

A vote was then taken on Senator

Windom's amendment, which was rejected—Senators Ilili and Garland voting with the Republicans. The debate was then resumed.

Senator Ransom of North Carolina, said he voted against the amendment because it contained an unjust assumption that the negroes had been ill treated by the whites. To show that this was not the case, he quotes ex-Gover-nor Holden, Hon. R. C. Badger and several Republican State representatives and prominent colored citizens of North Carolina, who declared to the colored people that the State had not been unfairly dealt with.

Mr. Ransom thought the Southern treatment of negroes would compare favorably with the Northern treatment of the Indians. One race was visibly and rapidly improving, the other disappear-Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, asked if the negroes were well treated in the South, and why they were emigrating to inhospitable climate.

Sanator Ransom asked in return, why if the people were well treated in Massachusetts they were emigrating to Tennessee. If the cause was oppression in one case, why not in the other. Senator Ransom thought the exodus was due to misrepresentations of the various people—perhaps of some Re-publican Senators. He would like to snow why colored emigration had been diverted from Kansas to Indiana-Sena tor Windom perhaps, because the ne-groes as Senator Hill says are so fond of the Democratic rule, and Indiana is about the only Northern Democratic

THE DISTRESS IN IRELAND. Pastoral Letter from Cardinal Man

The following pastoral letter from Cardinal Manning was read in the Roman Catholic places of worship in his diocese at all the masses and other services on Sunday, the 30th of November: "The early and severe cold which has set in warns us to look for much suffering this winter among our poor in London. Nevertheless, we invite you to think first of others at a distance, who are already suffering severely, and who, as the winter draws on, will probably have to endure want of food, fuel and clothing of a kind happily unknown to us. We have received private letters from well-informed and responsible persons in Ireland full of anxiety for the next months. They de-ecribe what is day by day before their eyes, and they assure us that in the west of Ireland such hunger, poverty and want as are to be seen have never been known since the fatal famine of 1847. Fever has already shown itself, especially among the school children. The dioceses which are already suffering most are Ross, Kerry, Galway and Tuam. It may be little that you can send; but you will be glad at least to show the smypathy and love of your hearts toward our suffering brethren in Ireland. We therefore affectionately and earnestly call upon you to give promptly and generously, as far as you are able, for their relief, and in thanksgiving to our Divine Master for all the blessings we enjoy. A collection will be made at all the masses and other services of Sunday next, Dec. 7." A Dublin correspondent of an English journal is of opinion that the meetings in Ireland on the land question are now nearly over, the agitation having burn-ed itself out; and he adds that now the more serious matter comes up of how the people are to be employed and fed, not only in the rural districts-happily there are not very many so circum-stanced—where there is deep poverty, but likewise in towns. There will be during December a great scarcity of labor, and, although pressure from this cause will be somewhat mitigated by the board of work loans, the number of those already memorialized for does not give encouragement to the hope that, by such borrowings and consequent works on the estates, the whole difficulty will be surmounted. Unfortunate as such further intervention may be, it is possible enough that a more direct use of public money will become, in exceptional casess necessary, and the public mind should be in time

In overhauling a lot of traps left over from the Fourth of July celebration, several young men, and some old ones too, last Sunday came across a paper balloon, which they thought, as it was a still, quiet day, should be sent adrift. Suiting the action to the word they retired to the bank of the river, inflated the airy craft by attaching a handful of burning excelsior saturated with turpentine to the basket, and after freighting it with several weighty prayers for the good of mankind in general, and for themselves in particular, they cut the rope and "let her rip." Gracefully it rose from the ground and sailed away toward heaven's; ethereal want, followed by the admiring gaze of vault, followed by the admiring gaze o those few devout worshipers, still standing on the banks of the placid Poudre, whose benisons were being rapidly and proudly wafted toward the pearly gates. Waiting until their mes-senger had disappeared in the blue depths of the atmosphere, they retired to their peaceful homes, feeling that it was good to have been there. Soon, ah! too soon, was the happiness of the favored few turned into bitterness and gall. That cursed balloon, instead of keeping on its course, returned to earth to torment its former enthusiastic friends. Dropping into Alex. Barry's meadow, it set fire to about twenty-five tons of hay in the stack, and before the fire could be extinguished the whole was destroyed. Fortunately by the utmost exertion and constant watching through the following night, two other and much larger stacks close by were saved. The hay destroyed was worth between four and five hundred dollars. Of course the parties engaged in ballooning that day are so much out. Sixty dollars each is about what it will cost

What He Meant to Say. A few days ago a citizen who does iness on Congress street, was drawn to his office door by a windy war of words between two men. Both seemed ready to fight if they had backing, and the citizen was looking as if ready to back the smaller one, when a man with a stiff neck and a painful gait came along, took in the situation, and said to the citizen: "Keep still-don't say a word-don't palliate a conflict!' The conflict was declared "off" and the men went their ways, and the citizen returned to his dish. In the course of the afternoon the man with the stiff neck entered the office, passed the time

"Out here this morning I made use of a word which I want to correct. I asked you not to 'palliate' a conflict. I meant 'participate,' not palliate. Good-

Next morning at 8 o'clock, when the citizen got off the car, the old chap was waiting for him on the corner, halling him against a stone wall, he "I called upon you yesterday to explain that I meant 'participate' instead of 'palliate.'" "Yes, you did."

"I now desire to inform you that I didn't mean either one. I mean 'pre-cipitate.' I have used the word a thou-sand times, and I don't see how I misspoke myself as I did." "On, that's all right-no harm done," laughed the citizen. "No, no particular harm, but I want things right if they can be made so." They separated. Near the close of the second day thereafter the old man entered the office again, placed his hat on the floor, wiped off his chin and

"I now desire to inform you that didn't mean 'precipitate' after all. It was probably the excitement of the moment which made me use 'palliate,' and then I got mixed on the others. What I meant to have said was 'precipitate.' I didn't want you to precipitate a conflict, you see. I am now set right at last, and I bid you good-bye!"
Some two or three days after that the citizen was over on the market. He saw the old man there, and he looked as if he wanted to say something. The citizen therefore approached and said

"Well, did you get the right word the last time?" "Say!" replied the old man, with a sudden gesture, "I've been thinking it over, and I wish we'd let them infernal fellers banged each other's heads off!"

The joint committee on the completion of the Washington Monument have submitted a detailed report to the House, showing that $67,902 95 have been expended in the work of strengthening the foundations, leaving available 332,096.10; $31,356.45 have been expended upon the completion of the monument, leaving $68,643.54 available. The total amount unexpended of the appropriation and now available for carrying on the work is $100,739.65. This amount will be sufficient to complete the strengthening of the foundation, providing the iron frame work of the interior stairway for two hundred and fifty feet, to construct the shaft and add twelve feet to the height of the monument. To continue work till October 31st, 1881, will require $300,000 additional, and to complete the shaft to the proposed height (500 feet) will re-quire $677,321. It is estimated that the entire work can be accomplished by the spring of 1883.

THE LAST OF A NOTED DES. PERADO.

How Bob Pharr, After Killing Two Persons, and a Career of Crime, is Shot-A Man With Three Names.

About 12 o'clock yesterday, the city was startled by the announcement that Policeman Hill had killed the noted negro desperado and criminal, Bob Pharr, alias Henry Johnston, whose last act in the drama of crime of which his life, for the last several years at least, has been made up, was the murder of Kerr Watt, colored, at Pineville, on the 28th of November. The report spread rapidly, and in a few minutes a crowd of people were hurrying to the scene of the tragedy, a small house on Church street near the intersection with Morehead, owned by Mr. W. F. Beatty and occupied by Isaac Jenkins, colored. The house, has only two rooms, a cooking and a sleeping apart-ment, and it was in the latter that the killing occurred. The bed clothes and slats had all been torn off the stead. and within the frame, in a sitting pos-ture, with one arm supporting the head on the frame and the back resting against the side, was the body of the noted criminal. In front of it was a small pool of blood which had run from his mouth and nose A small hole;in his forehead, slightly to the left side, marked the place where the ball had entered and from it flowed a small stream of blood. A cursory examina-tion of the skull failed to show any hole on the opposite side, so it is likely the ball is still in his head. He had on a new suit of clothes, and a silver mounted pistol protruded from his hip pocket.

THE STORY OF THE KILLING. is thus related by those who were pres-

I'LL DIE FIRST. They then attempted to move the bed so as to get at him, but he moved with it, thus managing to conceal his person. Finally Severs caught one of his hands and wrenched from it a knife and a bunch of keys. By this time Henry Hill had gotten on the back side of the bed, and one of the party jerked the bed clothes off. As this was done the negro raised himself up with pistol in hand and leveled it at Orr. The latter grasped it just in time to run his hand under the hammer, when the desperado pulled the trigger. The flesh prevented its striking the cartridge, and the weapon did not go off, but the next moment Pharr jerked it from Orr's hand and was in the act of covering him with it again when policeman Hill fired. Pharr struggled a moment, then sank down in his tracks, and never spoke afterward. It was all the work of an instant, and before the officers realized that the struggle was ended, the negro lay stone dead at their Policeman Hill surrendered himself to the sheriff, who, becoming acquainted with the facts, allowed him to go on his own recognizance. The remainder of those engaged in the affair stayed at the house to protect the body until it should be placed in the proper hands.

RECKLESS AND DARING CAREER. Pharr has been long known to the police as a most daring and reckless criminal. Their first encounter with him occurred about two months ago when an attempt was made to arrest him in a nagro house in First Ward. On the occasion, three members of the force surrounded the house. Discovering their presence, he leaped from the window, firing several shots from his pistol as he went, and after being shot at himself three or four times by members of the force, and a long race, he escaped. A few months prior to this occurrence he escaped from Lincoln jail and liberated four other prisoners. by shooting Sheriff Robinson, with the pistol which he snatched from the sheriff's hands. He was confined there for larceny and was known by the name of Henry Johnston. The sherift of Lincoln offered a reward of $50 for his arrest, and this was the occasion of the effort of the police to get him. In the house from which he escaped, was found an express receipt made to "Robert Pharr" for shoes shipped to Pineville. This with the description of him, at once identified him with Bob Pharr, who shot and killed Kerr Watt on the 28th of last month. For this crime a reward of $200 was offered for him by Governor Jarvis, and the police and other officers have been on the look ago they were informed that he was in the city, and night before last Police-men Hill and Farrington went to the house in which he was killed yesterday, expecting to find him, but he happened not to be in.

ent when it occured. About 11 o'clock a negro went to the house of Justice H C. Severs, who lives a few miles in the country, and told him that Pharr was in Isaac Jenkins's house. Mr. Severs came to town immediately and informed Policeman Henry Hill. They got Constable John Orr and Charley Baker to assist them, and the four men started for Jenkins's house, taking different routes. As they approached the house, a negro named Palmer came out, and from his conduct they discovered that Pharr had seen them coming. Justice Severs went to the window while the other men guarded the doors. He failed to see anything of Pharr at first but soon discovered that he was under the bed and told his companions to enter. The three men went in and Severs fol-lowed. They commanded him to surrender, but he refused, saying.

His Son and Reir Attempts to Dictate to Him.

VIENNA, Dec. 16 .- The Pesther Lloyd Correspondenz alleges that serious disputes have taken place between the Czar and Czarewitch, which have created great excitement in Court circles and generally throughout St, Petersburg. The main facts, as alleged, is that the Czarewitch, whose sympathies have long been with the popular party, demanded of the Czar the immediate institution of certain reforms which he claims are indispensable to the welfare and safety of the Empire and the continuance of the existing dynasty. The Czar on receipt of the communication containing this demand not only re-fused to take any steps toward acceding to it, but peremptorily ordered the ar-rest of the Czarewitch. This order, however, is said to have been countermanded on the receipt of a telegram from the Empress who is still at Cannes, protesting against what she as-serted would be viewed by the Powers as a harsh, unnecessary measure, cal-culated to bring additional scandal and trouble upon the Government and Imperial household.

The startling intelligence comes through the same channel that several prominent Russian Generals threaten to issue a pronunciamento expressive of their dissent from the methods of rule now in vogue in Russia, and of their purpose to withdraw their allegiance from the Emperor unless he con-sents to grant a constitution to the people. Deep feeling prevails upon the subject, which, it is feared, may culminate in a crisis of the gravest possible character

The Ute Surfender.

Washington Star, 17th. A telegram was received by Secretary Schurz last night from Commissioner Charles Adams, dated South Pueblo, Col., December 16, saying: "Yours of yesterday just received while traveling home. Your dispatch of the 9th was received by us on the 11th and communicated to Ouray, who immediately left for the camp of the White river Utes to hurry up their movements. Before the receipt of your dispatch one of the twelve designated by us, a son of Douglas, had been brought in, but we instructed Ouray to keep him and others until the full number was ready to be delivered. Before I left. I understood that a few others were at his house, but not all, which was hardly to be expected, as only five days had elapsed with snow very deep, traveling slow, and the Indians much scattered. I consider the surrender an accomplished fact, and cannot think of a possibility that it will be prevented, although Gen. Hatch may be delayed in bringing them out, as the snowfall in that country has been unprecedented, and transportation can hardly be obtained. Further negotiations in Washington as to the reservation will be easier of accomplishment than our task so far. Will write you fully."

The Coldest Town in the World. Bucyrus Journal.

Here it may relieve us when the mer cury has crept into the nineties, to think of a town which Humboldt, and other travelers have pronounced the coldest on the globe. This is Jakutsk (or Yakootsk), chief town of the province of that name in Eas ern Siberia, on the left bank of the river Lena, 62 deg. min. north, longitude 119 deg. 44 min. east, distant from St. Petersburg 5,951 east, distant from St. Feterboll 3,331 miles. The ground remains continually frozen to the depth of 300 feet, except in midsummer, when it thaws three feet at the surface. During ten days in August the thermometer marks eightyfive degrees, but from November to February it ranges from forty-two to sixty-eight degrees below zero, and the river is solid ice for nine months out of the twelve. The entire industry of the place—population 5,300—is comprised in candle works, and yet it is the princi-pal market of Eastern Siberia for traffic with the hunting tribes of the Buriats. The former, mostly nomadic having large herds of horses and cattle, bring to market butter, which is sent on horseback to the port of Okhotsk. The Buriats, also nomadic, bring quantities of skins of sables, foxes, martens, hares, squirrels and the like, and many of them are sold at the great fair in June, which, with May, is the active period of the year. In May the collected goods are conveyed to the sea ports, whence they are sent in every direction. The merchandise, chiefly furs and mammoth tusks, sold at fair amount in value to 400,000 roubles ($300,000.)

An Anecdote of Andy Johnson. A son of Parson Brownlow recently told this story of Andy Johnson, the event happening about the year 1845: "It seems that Johnson had offended a certain class of Democrats, and the local politicians, who ran the constituency, had arranged to nominate another man. Word was brought to Johnson of the fact after nightfall, and the convention was to meet next day. It seemed improbable that he could reach the spot in time to change the aspect. But he got on his horse immediately, riding all night, appeared in Jones-borough at daylight and called on the heads of the conspiracy. They admitted that they had promised their votes to another candidate, and could not retract. 'Very well," said Johnson, then I will show you what I propose to do with you. You expect to run for sheriff of this county, and you for county clerk, and you for coroner. I will run independently, and, though you can beat me for Congress, I will beat every one of you for your places and elect Whigs with the vote I mean to draw off." This kind of appeal always touches the politician, and when the convention met that day the old slate was br ken, and Andrew Johnson renominated.

Hanian Rejects Courtney's Propo-sition.

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 16.-Hanlan declares he will not entertain Courtney's proposition to wait till next June to row for the $6,000 prize. If Courtney's deposit is not made good by the 22d inst. for the race on the Potomac Hanlan will make a formal demand on Mr. Soule for the prize, and will base his future action on that gentleman's reply. Should Riley, or any other oarsman in America, challenge him for a race to come off in April or early in May he might be disposed to defer his proposed English trip for a month or two.

GRANT IN PHILADELPHIA.

HIS JOURNEY AROUND THE WORLD COMPLETED.

Once Around the Track in 943 Days-The Wandering Ulysses Welcomed Back on Yesterday.

PHILADELHHIA, Dec. 16 .- Ex-President Grant arrived in Philadelphia this morning, and was tendered the grandest demonstration of welcome ever seen in the Quaker City. The tour of the world, which was completed by his arrival here to-day occupied 943 days. The day opened clear and bright and the streets were filled with people long before the hour at which the General and his party were expected to ar-

The special train carrying Gen. and Mrs. Grant, Gov. Hoyt and staff, the committee, and the City Council of Philadelphia, left Harrisburg at 6:05 this morning and arrived at Gorman town Junction at 10 o'clock. At the city limits Mrs. Grant and other ladies of the party were transferred to a separate car and taken to the Continental Hotel. The remainder of the train, with Gen. Grant, Gov. Hoyt, and the reception committee, proceeded over the New York junction road to the North Philadelphia station at Somersett and Broad streets. Mayor Stokley and other officials at once entered the car and formally wel-comed the General to the city. To the Mayor's speech of welcome Gen. Grant

To you, Mr. Mayor, and good citizens of Philadelphia, which has always been a home to me since I first became acquainted with the citizens of Philadelphia, I return with great pleasure.

A salute was then fired by the Keystone Battery. Gen. Grant was escorted to a carriage by Mayor Stokley and driven around into Broad street, where the City Troop, mounted men, drawn up on one side. This troop formed a personal es ort before the carriage, four of the members riling at either side has escorted every President visiting Philadelphia since the time of Washington. On the east side of Broad street were drawn up in line the mili-tary, with the United States troops on the extreme right; next in succession came the United States Marine Corps, the Second New Jersey Brigade, N. G., Delaware battalion, and the Pennsylvania military, and the cadets from the Military Academy at Chester and the Philadelphia Lincoln Institute. The procession was in twenty divisions, and included all the military in the eastern part of Pennsylvania. Semimilitary, secret and political organiza-tions, citizens and representatives of all the trades and industries followed, so that fully 30,000 men were in line. The line did not move until 11 o'clock. Its route was down Broad to Market, Market to Fourth, to Chestnut, to Thirteenth, and down to Pine and to Broad again. The route was then down Broad, sixteen squares to Pennsylvania Road, where the column countermarched and halted, with the right of the line resting at the corner of Chestnut and Broad. The streets were crowded with people, and the decorations of the various stands and buildings exceeded anything ever before seen in Philadelphia. In front of the State House was a trium-phal arch, covered with bunting and American colors and festooned with laurel, the center piece capping the arch, being a handsome trophy of flags of all nations. As the procession passed Independence Hall the great bell was rung in honor of the city's guest. General Grant responded to the cheers of the crowd by standing up and waving his hat. He remained standing until it passed the venerable Independence Hall, when he resumed his seat beside the Mayor. In front of the Union League the thoroughfare was roped off, making a clear space, but on the pavements was a struggling mass of people. The League building was handsomely decorated. The east side of Broad street, in front of the League, was the stand where General Grant reviewed the pro-

At 2:45 p, m. the head of the line reached the League, and 45 minutes after that the carriage containing the General and Mayor Stokely reached General alighted and was presented to members of the League. There were no speeches. In a few minutes a signal was given and the procession moved forward. The General stepped to the front and viewed the pageant. At the conclusion of the review Gen Grant, after a short time, was driven to the residence of Mr. George W. Childs, where he rested and prepared for the reception given there in his honor to-To-night Chestnut street, from Independence Hall, where there is a general illumination, to Broad street, is as bright as day. Large crowds are promenading the streets.

Manhattan Bank Robbers. NEW YORK, Dec. 15 .- Discovery was made this evening of an attempt to liberate from the Tombs the Manhattan Bank burglars, Johnny Hope, Johnny Dobbs, Policeman Nugent, Janitor Shevelin and Watchman Kelly. This is the gang, so far arrested, for taking $3,000,000 from the bank in the famous burglary of over a year ago. The ut-most caution had been taken to prevent their escape or a rescue. Johnny Hope's father and Johnny Dobb's, father, by the free use of money, however, had bribed Keeper Morton to help the gang escape, but the warden of the prison, hearing of the plan, caused two detectives to be locked up close to the robbers. They soon saw that Morton was handing packages and letters to the prisoners, and then the warden himself saw it done. The result was the arrest to-night of the keeper, and the placing of new guards over the prisoners.

A New Treatment for Drunkenness.

A new and novel treatment of drunkenness was devised and tested by a Dubuque wife. Her husband camhome moderately intoxicated, and exepected to get the usual scoiding. He was astonished, therefore, when the woman received him smilingly, asked him if he would have some brandy, and produced a bottle and glass. He promptly accepted the liquor, and drank so much that he was helpless. Then she ticd him to a bedpost and whipped him with a rawhide until, as the Telegraph says, he was as tender as good beefsteak. One Experience from Many.

"I had been sick and miserable so long and had caused my husband so much troubled and expense, no one seemed to know what ailed me, that I was completely disheartened and discouraged. In this frame of mind I got a bottle of Hop Bitters and used them unknown to my family. I soon began to improve and gained so fast that my husband and tamily thought it strange and unnatural, but when I told them

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r. SPEAKER Randall is quoted by a Washington correspondent of a Philadelphia paper as saying: "I am in favor of Tilden. I think thee ought to

there is, he ought to be nominated." St. Louis estimates her cotton receipts for the year at 450,000 balesabout 23 times what they were in 1866, before the Iron Mountain and Missouri Kansas and Texas roads had laid Arkansas, Texas and part of Mississippi tributary to her thrift.

THE lumber season, which has just closed, has been without exception the most prosperous on record. Prices have ruled higher than the past, and the amount of lumber received in the city, 1,467,845,000 feet, is 30 per cent larger than last year-the largest up to date-and 50 per cent greater than the receipts ten years age. The shingle trade, while prosperous, owing to increased prices, has not been larger in quantity than for several years past.

RALEIGH is soon to have a new route South opened up. The R. R. from Cheraw to Wadesboro is now completed, all but five miles, and will be finish ed and running through by January 1. This will give Raleigh a new all rail route to Charleston and Florida about one hundred miles shorter than either of the present routes via Charlotte or Wilmington. Not the least pleasant feature is that this through connection is made without costing the tax-pavers and the State Treasury a cent, and that the sheriff has not had to sell any poor man's farm or cow to build it for mortgage bond holders to gobble up.

THE exodus-fund fraud at St. Louis is again brought to the attention of the public by the denunciations of a paper in that city edited by a colored man. The exodus board is changed among other things, with wasting the money sent to help colored emigrants and the appropriation of hundreds of dollars to themselves while the emigrants were naked and starving. This reopening of an old sore just now is not calculated to give a boom to the present movement of negroes towards Indiana. Cash does not flow freely into the coffers of the exodus society, and it would be strange if it did under all the circumstances. There is a limit even to credulity.

GAMBETTA talked with G. W. Smallev, the London correspondent of the New York Tribune, the other day. On being asked in what direction his policy was now bending he said, "Oh, straight ahead. But do not say you. Say the Chambers. Well, we have another great overplus of revenue this port of tax on wine This will be done in the interest of the working classes, to whom pure wine is an absolute necessity. The empire brutalized them by making wine dear. We had dear wine drunk in the four months of the siege, which would in itself explain the commune." He would also lighten the tax on farm carts and wagons, because the republic depends on the people, the great people. We must adopt and purify the maxim of the Roman emperors, "bread and the circus." Then he told how he was pushing the committees of the Assembly to a better knowledge of the needs of the people. Already the republic has reduced taxation $23,000,000, although it now appropriates nearly $12,000,000 to education, instead of less than half that sum as in 1866, Next year Gambetta proposes to devote $18,000,0.0 to public instruction, part of which will be used in establishing a national system of education for girls-and he paid, by the way, a great compliment to women, "whose minds were emancipated from sacredotal tyranny." He remarked on foreign affairs, that France never would go to war to recover her provinces, unless she fell into the hands of another Cæsar needing a pretext for keeping up a military spirit in the people.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The memorial to Congress in favor of the bill to abolish the legal-tender quality of the greenback currency has been largely signed in Philadelphia. Representatives Singleton and Chalmers are among the foremost competitors in Mississippi for the seat in the Senate now occupied by Senator Bruce.

Representative Cobb, of Indiana, says the financial resolution introduced by Senator Voorhees justly represents the sentiments of his State and of the great West.

The New York members of Congress of both parties, look with disfavor on the recently-suggested project for dividing that State into districts for the choice of Presidential electors.

Cyrus H. McCormick, of Chicago, a Democrat of Tilden sympathies, says in an interview that Tilden is "in the hands of his friends," but shows a readiness to withdraw in favor of some other hard-money man, which he has never before manifested. Mr. Mc-Cormick suggests Bayard as the coming man.

In connection with the proposi ion to retire the green backs the following is quoted from a letter of President Buchanan, dated the 10th of December. 1861: "I never expected to see the day when the federal government would assume the power of issuing a paper currency, much less of making ica legal-tender."

A Bayard club was organized in St Louis last week, and already numbers several hundred Democrats, including prominent merchants, attorneys and politicians. The preamble of the constitution of the clubs says: "The objects of this club shall be to urge upon the Democrats of the nation the policy of nominating Senator Bayard for the Presidency, and when nominated, of electing him."

Senator Bayard at Home.

Of Senator T. F. Bayard at home, a correspondent of the Boston Globe says: "In his family Senator Bayard is the model husband and the model father. His wife and his children are his jewels, and he cherishes them with a true father's love and care. His family are his companions, and when he is not engaged in his public duties at the capitol, you are almost sure to find him with his family at home. The Bayard's live very unpretentiously at Washington, in a plain, brick mansion, large and roomy. The house is furnished with a view to the comfort of the inmates rather than as an exhibition of differs from the homes of most wealthy men here in Washington. are rare rather than fashionable and showy. A favorite rendezvous of the Senator's is the dining-room-a large substantial room, with a great, hospi-table open dining-table and cheerful open grate fire always burning on the hearth in cold weather, and a solid, substantial-looking sideboard, the lock of which is never turned, and which never seems to be barren of good cheer. Here the Senator likes to gather about him his friends, both public and private, and there is rarely a day, I fancy, during the session of Congress, when be a reconciliation in New York, and if Senator Bayard does not have one or more notable men to dine with him. After dinner he delights to sit in this room and chat with his guests on the various topics of interest of the day. He is an inveterate talker, and, when warmed up upon a question of public importance, is apt to do three-quarters or seven-eighths of the talking him-friends of Mr. Tilden have been here from time to time during the past two weeks feeling the pulse of Democrats on the desirability of Mr. Tilden as their candidate for 1880. Unfortunately for them they have in most instances received the cold shoulder. The Democrats in Congress seem to be very nearly unanimous against trying Tilden again after their experience with him in the winter of 1876-'77. But those eastern and southern men who prefer Bayard intimate that there is danger that Tilden would use his influence in New York against Bayard if nominated, and so defeat him, and Tilden's friends, having first set afloat this story, have encouraged its propagation and belief. This makes some men hesitate to follow Bayard in his financial "new departure." To a less degree Mr. Tilden is represented to entertain similar teelings against Thurman, and even that has been medified since the Ohio elections, which is sup-posed to have seriously damaged Mr. Thurman's chances for the nomination. Of one thing you may be sure, says a southern Democratic Senator, we shall de all we can to harmonize the party in New York, and no man will be pominated for President unless he be accep table to both wings of the party in that State. These matters are freely talked of in private by Senators and mem bers, but there are few who care to have their names mentioned at this stage of the game.

American Silks.

Mr. William C. Wyncoop has published a brief account of the advances and improvements recently made in silk manufacture in the United States. From this source we gather that we imported, principally from Asia, last year not less than 1,590,666 pounds of raw silk; that there is no demand in this country for cocoons because there are no pilatures for reeling silk established among us, and consequently all the raw silk imported has to be silk that is already reeled, and this for the purposes for which it is used must be of the finest quality. Many of our readers will be surprised to learn that the mannfacture of silk thread and twist has reached a point with us that defies competition; that our plain black and dressed silk goods are superior in texture and in wearing qualities to those of the same grade imported from Europe. because none but the best silk thread is used, and the weaving is done in power looms instead of by hand, which admits of using lumpy and imperfect silk thread. In American made hankerchiefs, scarfs, neckties and millinery goods we compete successfully with the vear, and we are going to lighten every foreign supply, and in ribbons our success has been so great that toey ar eexported, while our original designs are much admired abroad.

Confederates Prohibited.

Mr. Cephas Davis, colored Senator from Mecklenburg, in the Senate, December 11th, said when the time came for electing Register of Land Office place then filled by Col. Randolph Harrison, a gallant one-legged Confederate soldier):
"I have heard a great deal of talk about the Confederate soldier who was defeated by G. W. Cook, a colored man. That soldier ought to have been defeat-I am heartily tired of hearing the Confederate soldier. * It is time for the Senate to remove those officers. To the visitors belong the spoils. * * This is not the place to try to reward Confederate soldiers. They belong to the lost cause and have no part in these spoils. * is nonsensical to put one-legged and one-armed soldiers up. * vote for a resolution prohibiting the use of the words one-legged, two-legged, or four-legged Confederate soldier. * * Let their names go down in the world!"

The Growth of Berlin.

A report just issued by the munici-pality of Berlin shows some interesting information as to the growth of the population of that city. At the end of the seventeenth century, when London and Paris each contained considerably more than one hundred thousand inhabitants. Berlin was an unimportant town with a population of little over ten thousand. It was enlarged and embellished under the Great Elector and the two first Prussian Kings, and at the beginning of the present century its population had already risen to about one hundred and fifty thousand. It increased still further after the close of the war with Napoleon, and during the long peace that followed, but at the end of 1860, though the municipal district of Berlin had been considerably extended, it did not contain much more han five hundred thousand inhabitants During the sixteen years that followed however, its population was almost doubled. This has not been the case with any town of the same size except New York. Since 1877 the population of Berlin has been over a million, and it is now the largest city in Europe after London and Paris.

Two Meanest Men. Here are the two meanest men on record: The owners of a clothing-making firm in Boston employ thirty-five girls, who, from their poor earnings. contributed $22 on Thanksgiving Day and gave each of the two members of the firm a pretty album, occupying a half hour in getting ready and making the presentation. The two mean fellows took the gifts with ready smiles, and on pay-day deducted from the wages of the girls time-money for the half hour they had occupied in giving the albums.

It will have one hundred and twenty speaking stops, thirty-six more than the Boston organ, nine more than the great instrument in Albert Hall, London, and will cost $40,000. The following paragraph gives some of the new and peculiar features of the Stewart Cathedral organ: "When placed in position it will occupy four different parts of the cathedral. The main body of the interest of the cathedral to the cathedral The main body of the instrument will stand in the chancel, where the organist will sit. In the tower of the vest end of the building, directly behind a large stained window, is a room, in which a part of the organ will be placed, to be connected with the chancel by electricity. The window will be opened and closed by the electrical apparatus, controlled by the organist from the chancel, which will afford fine crescendo and diminuendo effects from that section of the organ in the tower. In the centre of the cathedral, over the ceiling, will be placed another part of the instrument, to be called the "echo," which is also to be operated in the chancel by electricity. In the chapel under-neath the chancel there is to be still another section of the great organ, which will be so arranged that it can be played in the chapel as well as from the chancel. The famous centennial chimes in the tower are also to be connected with the chancel by electricity, so that the organ-ist can strike them from the keys of the organ. The bellows will be operated by hydraulic engines."

Make a Note of This. Professor Green, a distinguished allopathic physician, wrote to the Medi-cal Journal to the effect that after all other means had failed he sent for the Kidney Cure, (now Safe Kidney and Liver Cure), and to his astonishment cured a serious case of Bright's Disease by administering it, and afterward found it equally beneficial in other cases. He advised his brother physicians to use it in preference to any thing else for kidney diseases.

Messrs WEEKS & POTTER: Guəlemen-I cannot refrain from ad ing my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA KEME-DIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago believing they did me no good. The CUTICERA has storyed this stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it ere necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the leng-looked-for cure and haphave been afflicted with Eczema or Salt

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs — of —, Dr. — of —, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure. April 1st last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for any years until the use of CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. Ine other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely heal-d. I believe myse f completely cured. I shall continue the UTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the suomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afficted to use these wonderful remedies.

It is indorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the prepararimental use and approval of the prepara-tion by well-known physicians, :emoved all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Editors Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va. Many cases of Dyspepsin within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics Hendaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The curez of this sort are innumerable.

Col. Va.
It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Facuity and the people. It is excellent for in igestion and flatulent colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperient, without nausea.

Rev. B. F. Woodward, P. E., Na. Cont. About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Falling in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev. Robert W. Watts, A. M., V2.
I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knev. For prostration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va.

It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whoe list of medicines, so far as I observed in lmy practice, for all the complaints in familie from indigestion. I use it and recommend it.

--- It gives us pleasure to announce that arrangements have been made, by which Prof. Daves, of Baltimore, will visit Raleigh during the week Christmas, for the purpose of delivering two or more lectures before St. Mary's School. These lectures were prepared for and delivered at the Peabody Institute, which fact, together with Mr. Daves' reputation as an accomplished gentleman, a graphic writer, and graceful speaker, justifies us in expecting an occasion of rare enjoyment and profit. One of the lectures will be upon the "Passion-Play of Ober-Ammergan," a subject of exceeding interest, and as Mr. Dayes had the opportunity of witnessing this wonderful representation during his residence in Europe, he is qualified to describe it as only an eye-witness can do.

The gallant soldier-editor of the Farmer and Mechanic irreverently styles the "Mud-cut Tunnel" a "financial Hole-in-the-wall." It is a hole in the tax-payers' pockets.

Gin House Burned.

We learn from our regular corres pondent at Weldon that the gin house of Mr. T. L. Emery, of that place, was burned yesterday. It contained about twenty bales of cotton, seven thousand bushels of cotton seed, steam engine, gin and press. Fire accidental, Loss between $3,000 and $4,000. No insurance

Our market on yesterday again fluctuated very much. The first advices from New York and Liverpool gave a decline and our market in response also declined and opened at 113-8, but during the day recovered and closed as it did the day before at 11 3-4 and 11 7-8, basis middling.

Rather Cool.

We learn that one of our citizens and a Mr. Norwood made a narrow escape on yesterday. They were crossing Neuse river at a point some ten miles from the city, when getting in a strong current the boat filled with water and they had to "take to water" which was rather a chilly amusement, but they were glad to take the "ducking" with no worse results.

At the hospital of St. John's Guild, on Thursday, December 18th, Charles W. Watkins, in the 64th year of his age. His funeral will take place from the church of the Good Shepherd this (Friday) afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Mr. Watkins came to Raleigh from the North some four or five years ago, and by his consistent and upright life has gained many friends. He was faithfully cared for at the hospital, and passed away peacefully with the blessed hope of a glorious immortality.

Santa Claus will make two visits to Raleigh this year—one on Christmas Eve and the other on the 30th inst. On Christmas Eve he will make his appearance after all the children have retired for the night, and will leave early Christmas morning, before they are awake, and they won't see him, but on Tuesday night the 30th inst., he will return and make his appearance at Tucker Hall before the children go to bed, so they all can see him. His appearance on his second visit will be made known by the popping of his whip and by the sound of bells as his Reindeers bring him into the city.

An Enterprising Firm.

The coal firm of Mitkiewicz, Cooke & Co., which has recently come into prominence in this city, on account of their extensive operations, have extended their business to Washington, D. C., where they have associated with them Mr. Porter, a son of Admiral Porter, of the United States Navy, under the firm name of Mitkiewicz, Cooke & Porter. The new firm have opened a large yard, and secured extensive wharf facilities at the capitol, and have laid in the largest stock of coal in the District .- Baltimore American.

Mr. Cooke, of the above firm, is a native of Raleigh, and will be remember-ed by a number of our young men as Addie Cooke, son of Mr. W. D. Cooke who, for a long white, was the superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum. We congratulate him on his success in

No More Hard Times.

If you will stop spending so much on fine clothes, rich food and style, buy good, healthy food, cheaper and better clothing, get more real and substantial things of life every way, and especially stop the foolish habit of employing expensive quack doctors, or using so much of the vile humbug medicine that does you only harm, but put your trust in that simple, pure remedy, Hop Bitters, that cures always at a trifling cost, and you will see good times and have good health. The Old Folks' Concert.

Allow a cold to advance in your sys tem and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an in mediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syruphas gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Cough, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's famour German prescription, ane is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand rnd without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. The Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn:-A BENEFACTRESS.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. O this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's Sooth-ing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhoea. It softens the gums, reduces inflamation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant safely through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, asshe is a physical sa-viour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.
